We Like ‘Em Short Film Festival

First off welcome everyone to Baker City and the We Like ‘Em Short Film Festival.

We are celebrating 10 years of short films animated and funny. I can't believe how quickly it's gone by and want to thank Derek, Mary and Ann who've been part of the selection committee longer than anyone. We all get so excited come fall when we know the submission period is about to open again for another season. With the help of Mike and Delany this year we had a wide range of ages and opinions and I hope you all agree it's one of the most incredible group of films every to grace the screen at the Eltrym Theater during WLES.

For 10 years due to the generosity of Teresa and Dan McQuisten the home of WLES has been at the historic Eltrym Theater in downtown Baker City. They are tremendous supporters of the arts and we couldn't do what we do in Baker City without them.

For the 2nd year in a row Opening Night of the festival will be free to the public and as long as it doesn't rain, it will be held outside in Baker's Central Park.

This year our special guest director is Paul Harrod. In 2015 he was co-Production Designer with Adam Stockhausen on Wes Anderson's stopmotion feature, Isle Of Dogs and received the 2019 Art Directors Guild award for Excellence in Production Design for an Animated Feature. We'll also be screening Isle of Dogs on Saturday night with a special presentation afterwards at Churchill School where you'll get to meet Paul and see how Isle of Dogs was made.

On Sunday afternoon we're honored to be screening Joanna Priestly's abstract feature animation North of Blue.

WLES is funded in part by a grant from the Baker County Cultural Coalition, Oregon Film and Baker County Tourism, with the proceeds from the festival benefiting the student filmmakers at Baker High School. We are so pleased you came to enjoy one of the many great events Baker County has to offer and now it's time to enjoy the shorts!

Sincerely,

Brian Vegter
WLES Festival Director

6:30PM An evening with Paul Harrod

at The Eltrym Theater and Churchill Dancehall

Screening of “Isle of Dogs” to begin the evening at the Eltrym Theater followed by a special gathering with Paul Harrod and an intimate behind the scenes presentation at Churchill Dancehall

Paul Harrod has worked three decades as a designer, art director and director of both animated and live action projects, with a special emphasis on stop-motion animation.

In 2015 he was co-Production Designer with Adam Stockhausen on Wes Anderson’s stopmotion feature, Isle Of Dogs and received the 2019 Art Directors Guild award for Excellence in Production Design for an Animated Feature. Following the screening of Isle of Dogs at the Eltrym we will host a special presentation with Paul back at Churchill Dancehall where you’ll get a behind the scenes look at the making of the film with puppets and maquettes.

In his capacity as a designer, model maker and sculptor, he lent his skills to such diverse projects as sculpting aliens for Star Trek V and designing and building miniature sets for the opening titles of Pee Wee’s Playhouse. Specializing in designing environments for visual effects and stop-motion projects, he set the tone for a variety of commercial campaigns, including the first several Chevron “Talking Cars” spots at Aardman Animations in 1994, a campaign which continues to this day.

Harrod served as Senior Art Director at Will Vinton Studios from 1995 through 2001, overseeing the design demands of all studio output. He served as production designer and episode director on the Fox TV series, “The PJs” for which he was nominated for an Annie award in 2000.

His animated commercials for Tractor Supply Company (TSC) produced at Bent Image Lab received awards and attention for their outstanding creative design and dry, understated humor. TSC’s “Koi Pond”, was voted one of the 50 best spots of 2006 by Adweek.

“My visual style has always been guided by a love for cinema history, and since 2007 have curated monthly film screenings at Mother’s Velvet Lounge in Portland OR, where I live with my wife, the internationally acclaimed filmmaker Joanna Priestley.”

Sunday, August 18th

2 PM Special Screening of Joanna Priestley's "North of Blue"

Joanna Priestley has directed, animated, and produced thirty films, including the abstract animated feature North of Blue.

Priestley explains: "North of Blue began in February 2012 when I was invited to be filmmaker-in-residence for a month at the Klondike Institute of Art and Culture in Dawson, City, Yukon, 173 miles (278 km) from the Arctic Circle.

I examined the abstract paintings of Hilma af Klint (1862 – 1944, Sweden) and stills from the films of pioneer abstract animator Mary Ellen Bute (1906 – 1983, USA). Af Klint, the first abstract painter, was a new discovery for me as she has been excluded from art history. I revisited the abstract paintings of a life long favorite artist, Piet Mondrian (1872 – 1944, Holland), whose work influenced the compositional structure and palette.

I had this delicious, expansive feeling of being in a vast, wild landscape, like the Yukon, with all the time in the world to explore new territory and experiment with unfamiliar imagery. Intriguing and challenging restrictions on palette, composition and content emerged organically. These created fresh focus, cinematic continuity and new strands of inquiry."

Priestley has received fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts, American Film Institute, MacDowell Colony, Fundación Valparaíso and Creative Capital. Priestley was founding president of ASIFA Northwest and she is a voting member of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, where she annually juries the Oscars, Student Academy Awards and the Academy Nicholl Fellowships in Screenwriting. Priestley's other passions include medicinal herbalism and creating projects at Burning Man and she lives next to the forest in Portland, Oregon with her husband, director/production designer Paul Harrod. The Times Theatre opened in Baker City on June 27, 1940 bearing a new name, Eltrym, in honor of the late Myrtle Buckmiller. The opening of the Eltrym Theater was a grand affair. Mark Cory, an RKO representative from Portland, formally opened the theater. A friend of the Buckmillers, he paid tribute to Myrtle. Hundreds of telegrams were sent wishing the theater well, including one from Bob Hope & Paulette Goddard whose film “Ghost Breakers” was premiered in Oregon at the Eltrym that night. Other wires were received from Bing Crosby, Jimmy Cagney, Pat O’Brien, Claudette Colbert, Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Melvin Douglas, Cary Grant, Rita Hayworth and others.

The first tickets sold at the Eltrym Theater cost 35 cents, unless you wanted to sit in the loges, which cost 40 cents.
